

PACIFIC CENTRE
family services association

What about our admin and finance networks?

Blog
contenteditor
May 4, 2010
0

In our sector we find ongoing opportunities for our clinical and front line staff to train and network together in the interests of best practice and professional development. But there is a shortage of such opportunities for our administrative support and financial staff. These professional development activities are a way for us all to find efficiencies in our systems and share learning in our ever more complex world of accountable service delivery. If you are a local agency and have a suggestion or view - why not contact us!

What about our admin and finance networks?